Hugh Glass Bruce Bradley

Forced into piracy. . .compelled to watch helplessly as his only friend was murdered by Indians. . .Mauled to the brink of death by a maddened grizzly, then robbed and left to die alone in the wilderness--hundreds of miles from civilization--stranger than fiction, but a true story about the life of HUGH GLASS!

In 1817, after living most of his life as a normal seaman, Hugh Glass was given the choice at age 37 to become a pirate or die. From that moment until the end of his days, Glass' life became an adventure that ranged from the edges of the Caribbean to the heart of the American wilderness. This is the incredible story of one man whose courage and will to live despite all odds is a testimony to anyone who ever faced peril and adversity.
