Havana Boxing Club

Havana Boxing Club

Boxing is one of the most popular sports in Cuba and its fighters are recognized the world over for their skills and finesse. The Cuban national team holds more Olympic medals in the sport than any other country, making the nation a hotbed of emerging global champions. State-sanctioned and promoted since the revolution, amateur boxing's potential for fame and relative wealth makes it a beacon for impoverished youth yearning for a better life. Shot all across the Republic of Cuba, Havana Boxing Club documents amateur boxing schools and the aspiring, determined boys studying the sweet science. Compiled over the course of eight years, French photographer Thierry Le Goues spent countless hours in the complex network of training facilities that abound in the island nation, developing relationships with the coaches and their young progeny, following the rise and fall of countless talents and wannabes.

The resulting images are of young fighters struggling, sweating, and fighting to overcome anything thrown in their way--inside the ring and out. Le Goues' luscious tritone black and white photographs depict rigorous training camps, boxing rings erected in the streets of small villages in the Cuban countryside, the lows of these young boxers struggling with abject poverty and crushing defeat, and the ultimate highs of rising up victorious over all obstacles and challengers. The pure instinct to survive against overwhelming odds and to realize their dreams of boxing on the national team is both startling and beautiful. Havana Boxing Club captures the sport's arresting beauty and unrelenting brutality.

Vanessa Kistler:

As a pupil exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or even make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's heart and soul or real their interest. They just do what the educator want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Havana Boxing Club can make you feel more interested to read.
